Order Online CCO/geral/Pixabay How much are you worth, financially? Many people have no idea what their net worth is, although they often read about the net worth of famous people and rich business owners. Your own net worth is a good number to know, though. It can help you understand your overall financial situation and help you set goals for the future. Make a List of All the Things You OwnEverything you own - that is, your assets - are the place to start. You want to estimate the value of each item and add them up. Don't worry if you still owe money on these items. That will be handled later. Instead, simply find the value of each asset and list it.Assets include:Money in your bank accounts, including the current balance of the account you use daily Value of investments, including 401k, IRAs, stocks, bonds, and CDs Your car The market value of your home and any other property you own The value of businesses interests Personal valuables including art, jewelry, antiques, and more Cash value of your insurance policies Once you have this list, you can put the total down as your assets. Make a List of What You OweOnce you know your assets, it's time to total up your liabilities. That is, how much do you owe to others?Here are some things that can be a part of your liabilities list:Mortgage Car loans Student loans Credit card and personal debt Other liabilities or debts you owe This total of this list you can write down as your liabilities.Subtract Your Liabilities From AssetsThe final step is to simply subtract your liabilities from your assets. If this number is positive, you have a positive net worth. You own more than you owe to others. On the other hand, if it's negative, you owe people more than you own. If this is the case for you, you may want to prioritize paying down debt and saving money for the future.Consider a Net Worth Calculator to Project Future Net WorthThere are a variety of net worth calculators online, such as the one at Bankrate.com. These allow you to enter your assets and liabilities and include the growth rates of each. Assets grow when you have an appreciation, like when your home or investment accounts increase in value. Liabilities grow when interest is added and the payments made are not enough to make up for it. Liabilities may also grow if you borrow more money.Whether you figure your net worth manually or work it out using an online calculator, this number can help you plan for the future. Remember, it's just money, but you can use it as a benchmark for budgeting and more. What channel is newsmax and OAN on DISH? Newsmax on DISH Network - Channel 216 NEWSMAX offers Talk, Politics, News and Special programming. Photo by Alex Wong/Getty Images Getty Images Recent reports that DIRECTV was dropping one of former President Donald Trump's favorite news channels, One America News Network (OANN) caused host Dan Ball to appeal to viewers to heat up AT&T phone lines with complaints. "What's happening is a direct attack on free speech and freedom of the press. And what's being done to us at this network is 110 percent politically driven and motivated, period," said Ball. The pleas for viewer complaints are too little, too late. DIRECTV has already made its decision and moved on and other multichannel operators appear to be coming to the realization that Trump-related news was no longer on the top of viewers minds. It's been reported that Newsmax TV, another right wing news channel favored by former President Donald Trump, has been dropped by Atlantic Broadband, Blue Ridge Communications Cincinnati Bell and Hargray Communications (now a division of Cable One). However, a Newsmax spokesperson said the company is currently negotiating with the NCTC, a cooperative of cable channels, and believes "the result will be positive." The number of subscribers lost, 150K out of 54 million is just a drop in the bucket. However, if other large cable and satellite operators follow suit, it could be problematic for Newsmax TV. A spokesman for Newsmax TV notes that the channel has not seen any significant operator indicating that they want to drop the network. "Despite our high ratings with personalities like Greg Kelly, Eric Bolling, Sean Spicer, Lyndsay Keith, Dick Morris, Alan Dershowitz, and more — it is clear that Blue Ridge doesn't like Newsmax's point of view," Newsmax said in a statement. They note that they ranked 18th in Nielsen Media Research's tracking of basic cable networks in viewership of adults in the 35-65 age group with incomes over $100K+ from M-F from 9:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. In fact, it seems like Newsmax's distribution woes are more over money than political ideology. Historically, Newsmax did not charge multichannel operators a fee to carry its channel. Partially due to that reason, the channel has gotten significant distribution, but it has lost money in each of its last seven years on the air (about $50 million in aggregate). Management may have decided the only way to get the channel profitable going forward was to roll out a new carriage agreement contract which included an annual license fee per subscriber. "While we worked in good faith to negotiate a new agreement, Newsmax insisted on unreasonable terms and conditions that would have resulted in increased TV fees for all Atlantic Broadband customers even though Newsmax is available for free for other viewers," Atlantic Broadband said in a statement. Comcast, DIRECTV and DISH Network are still carrying Newsmax TV at this juncture. However, when those carriage agreements come up for renewal, it's possible they may balk at paying a fee. Editor's Note: The story has been updated to correct the number of subscribers Newsmax has lost and include comments from Newsmax about its negotiations with the NCTC.
